BODIES OF SLAIN

WILL BE BROUGHT

BACK TO BORDER

Columbus, N. M., May 24.—A truck train was prepared here tonight to leave for the south, carrying men to disinter the bodies of American soldiers killed in clashes with Mexican bandits and bring them back to American soil.

While no accurate list of the American troops buried in Mexico was available here, military authorities believed that the total would not exceed ten. The train leaving tomorrow will go to the field base near Namiquipa for instructions and then proceed south under escort to the temporary resting places of the soldiers.

A lengthy message in code was transmitted from Major General Frederick Funston to General J. J. Pershing, expeditionary commander, today. While military authorities here declined to discuss the dispatch, it was believed it contained instructions to General Pershing as to the disposition of his troops in certain eventualities.

The fourth year graduating students of the B. Y. C. held one of their last social reunions at the home of their class father J. W. Gardner. The party was a surprise affair. An initial watch fob was presented to Prof. Gardner.

JENSEN'S MEN AT POCATELLO ARE WINNERS

The track men of the B. Y. College came back from their trip north early, very early yesterday morning with a whole string of scalps tied to their belts. They had a hard tussle with the boys of the Technical Institute of Idaho harder than the score of 89 to 27 in favor of B. Y. C. would indicate.

The events were close, nearly all of them. This was especially true with the relay race and the hurdles. This meet was interesting because it offers an opportunity for a real comparison of the ability of the B. Y. boys when meeting with students of their class.

The Idaho school they met is a junior college. It has opportunity to select from about the same number of students as the Crimston team was chosen from. The eligibility rules are practically the same and that Coach Jensen's team was able to carry off such a victory speaks well of their attitude and also their training. The summaries are:

100 Yard Dash—Knowles, C., won; Nelson, C., second; Frank, C., third. Time, :10 1-5.
220 Yard Dash—Knowles, C., won; Nelson, C., second; Kennedy, Tech., third. Time, :24 2-5.
440 Yard Dash—Knight, C., won; Nelson, C., second; Rucker, Tech., third. Time :54.

880 Yard Run—Tolman, C., won; Jacques, C., second; Story, Tech., third. Time 2:02.

1 Mile Run—Jacques C., won; Tolman, C., second; Story, Tech., third. Time 5:02.

120 Yard High Hurdles—Ream, Tech., won; Allen, C., second; no third. Time :17 3-5.

220 Yard Low Hurdles—Edwards, C., won; Ream, Tech., second; no third. Time :27 4-5.

AVIATION EXHIBITION TO BE GIVEN FREE BY BOOSTERS' COMMITTEE

Next Wednesday Aviator Moroney of Montana Will Fly at the B. Y. College Campus in Logan. General Public of Cache Valley and Elsewhere Are Invited to Attend at Expense of Club

On Decoration Day two years ago, the Outdoor Sports committee of the Commercial Boosters Club promoted automobile races and an aviation exhibition at the Fair Grounds. The aviation exhibition was an absolute failure and the committee and every body else connected therewith were criticised severely by the public, as many people had come for miles to attend.

No one was more disappointed and felt as if to tear the aviator and his machine to pieces as the committee, but that did not help matters, only that a portion of that which was to go to the aviation company was held back. The committee came forth with a written public statement that it would make good with the public by giving a free attraction with the money that was held back and if necessary add more to the fund to give satisfaction.

Since that time the committee has been on the alert to secure some attraction passing through at a reasonable cost. The committee is now prepared to announce that there will be a free aviation exhibition for the entire public at the B. Y. campus next Wednesday afternoon, May 31. Lieut. Terah T. Maroney was advised of the conditions and as he is going to pass through this section of the country to give his flights at Payson, May 26 and 27, he agreed to come here at a reasonable figure so that the Sports committee could keep good his promise.

Last evening Mr. Maroney flew in Payson just to show the people that he would be able to fly for their big celebration. He promises that unless there is a hurricane or some serious accident he will show the people that aviation is not a joke in Cache Valley.

Last year Mr. Maroney flew at the State Fair and Mr. Ensign states that he is the most successful aviator they have ever had. Mr. Maroney is a graduate of the Curtis Aviation School and has been in the flying game since 1905. He is a licensed aviator and a member of the Aero Club of America. He also holds a certificate from the Montana state legislature which shows that he is the official of Montana.

It is to be hoped that the entire public will attend, especially those who were stung.

EMILY STEVENS AT THE LYRIC MON. AND TUE.

Standish, an artist, uses Mary, his wife, as the model for his painting of the Madonna. When the Connoisseur and the Parishioner come to inspect the picture the Connoisseur recognizes in the model an old paragon and tells the husband so. The husband, while surprised, fails to disclose his identity and the visitors purchase the picture. After their departure the artist upbraids his wife. She tells him of her long acquaintance with the Connoisseur and how for five years, she believed herself legally married to him. But the husband, unforgiving, turns her and her infant son out into the street.

The mother leaves her baby on the steps of a monastery with a crucifix bearing her name. Then she enters a squalid resort known as the House of Lost Souls, and becomes its reigning queen.

Seventeen years later the boy is a novice in the monastery. Before becoming a monk he wants to see the world. Father Anthony gives consent and the lad wanders into the House of Lost Souls, of which his mother is now the proprietress. There the novice meets Lust, Rum, Passion, Avarice and Beauty. They try their wiles in vain. Finally he succumbs to Beauty. The proprietress enters their ribald revels, takes the lad to her room and finding the crucifix, learns that he is her son. Without disclosing her identity, she tells him to go back. When he is gone, she renounces her companions. Then she falls fainting.

Eight years later the boy is a parish priest. In a fearful storm an old hag enters the church. It is the mother. She sees above the altar the painting of the Madonna for which she posed and recognizes her son by the crucifix he still wears. The son gives the mother absolution, as the Angel of Death enters and bears off her spirit.

The local cavalry troop is drilling every evening so as to be in condition to be mustered in at the Cavalry Ball at the Auditorium on Decoration Day. ## "FAUST" AT THE LYRIC TONIGHT

Tonight Lucy Gates will star again in grand opera, opening her night's engagement of, Faust, at the Lyric theater, and she will unquestionably eclipse anything she has ever done before in Utah. She is ably assisted by Willard Andelin, as Mephisto; Hugh W. Dougall, as Valentine; J. W. Summerhays as Faust; Miss Evangeline Thomas as Martha; Miss Florence Summerhays as Siebel, and O. D. Romney as Wagner.

The assemblage of principals is well high perfect, and with the magnificent scenery and costumes, and the elaborate stage fixtures Logan will have a night of grand opera that has not been equalled in years. This is not mere press enthusiasm, but facts straight from the shoulder that will easily be proved at the performance. One really cannot get any adequate idea of the beauty of Miss Gates' presentation of Faust, through any of the things that have been printed about it.

It is simply stupendous, and the company has the word of a big manager who has been here in the interest of booking the company for a prospective tour, that he has never seen the subject staged with such a splendid conception and completeness.

SUGAR BEET SEED GIVES PROFITS OF $130 AN ACRE

The Experiment Station of the U. A. C. is in receipt of a check from the Amalgamated Sugar Company, for two hundred and ninety-two dollars and sixty cents for two thousand and ninety pounds of beet seed raised last year on one and a third acres of ground at the College farm at Greenville.

The cost of production including two dollars rent an acre was ninety-five dollars. The profits per acre after all costs of production were paid was one hundred and thirty dollars.

This is the fourth year that commercial seed has been grown on the college farm successfully and at a profit which proves that the possibilities of making it an important industry in our state are very good.
